Use the Following Questions to Think About Yourself in Relation to Your Students with Exceptionalities

- How are students with special needs identified?
- How are interventions/accommodations for students with special needs determined, implemented, and evaluated?
- How was collaboration with other staff accomplished?
- How are you articulating high expectations for all students?
- How are you expecting all students to participate academically and socially?
- How are you encouraging and expecting all students to complete assignments?
- How are you preventing student non-participation and isolation?
- How are you giving students opportunities to show their strength?
- How are you differentiating instruction?